9. The personal interviews with a recent Soviet defector held for the students of the Soviet Bloc Operations Course on 16 and 17 June in a safe-house, were enthusiastically received and had considerable impact on the class. Participants, most of whom had never seen a Soviet Russian in the flesh, made remarks such as:

"It's great to hear it from the horse's mouth, instead of in movies or from case officers." and

"I will feel so much more confident in my field assignment, having seen that they are human, have senses of humor, shyness, etc."

The fact that an unscheduled event of such interest could be arranged promptly (in spite of built-in difficulties) on the basis of a student suggestion, reflected credit, in the eyes of the class, on both SB Division and course management.
